TeamUp -Online tutoring in preparation for Bagrut exams

With the current challenge of the Coronavirus, disconnecting students from their physical classrooms, there is an acute need for professional online study assistance.

The Center for Educational Technology offers TeamUp to provide students with personalized, innovative online study in a marathon preparation for the 2020 exams. Through focused tutoring and ongoing support by highly trained mentors, we wish to ensure students’ success.

Through philanthropic-funded TeamUp, we wish to provide support to students whose families are economically impacted by the Corona pandemic and those from a low socio-economic background to ensure equal opportunity and lead them toward high achievements.

Over the past two decades CET has proven that virtual learning can provide a professional and caring supportive response for tens of thousands of students and offer vital tools to ensure success on final exams. CET has gained a great deal of applied knowledge in the development and operation of online teaching (management, pedagogical and technological) and we are eager to provide this needed support to many more.

We ask for your generous funding to support the many students in need, reduce the learning gaps and lead them toward high achievements and a brighter future!

TeamUp offers:

- Online study in preparation for 4-5 units in Mathematics, 4-5 units English and Physics for 11th and 12th graders
- Advanced online learning in a virtual classroom and through WhatsApp
- Up to 3 students per study group
- 1.5 hours per week for eight weeks per study group
- Personalized practice according to individual students’ needs
- Mentors are all trained and receive ongoing pedagogical guidance
- Recorded classes which can be viewed any time
- All activities are controlled and monitored
- Virtual classrooms offer high performance, innovative tools for students and teachers
- Students are provided with vast study materials, including thousands of presentations, activities and videos
- CET provides ongoing professional technical support

The cost to offer TeamUp for every 100 students is 66,000 ₪.
With your kind support, we will be able to reach thousands of students across the country!

For more information please contact Avigail Ben Aryeh
TeamUp-Support@cet.ac.il | +972-52-4092233